Stay in the Game: Fighting Prostate Cancer in NYC + Miami

Episode 21 with Christopher Anderson, MD and Chad Ritch, MD

February 18, 2022 By Fans for the Cure

Welcome to Stay in the Game: Conversations about Prostate Cancer with Ed Randall. Here we'll chat with doctors, researchers, medical professionals, survivors, and others to share and connect. This show was produced and shared by Fans for the Cure, a non-profit dedicated to serving men on their journeys through prostate cancer.

Dr. Christopher Anderson is an Assistant Professor of Urology at Columbia University Irving Medical Center, and urologist at New York-Presbyterian/Columbia University Irving Medical Center. His research includes outcomes after robotic prostatectomy, access to care for bladder cancer patients, and the study and development of active surveillance strategies for men with prostate cancer.

Dr. Chad Ritch is an Assistant Professor of Urology at the Miller School of Medicine, as well as a urologic oncologist at Sylvester Comprehensive Cancer Center, both of which are part of the University of Miami's Health System. His research has led him to study imaging in refining prostate cancer treatment, robotic vs. open surgery approaches, and the role of race and ethnicity in prostate cancer outcomes. Dr. Ritch also has an MBA from the University of Chicago.
