The Growing Challenge of Liver Cancer [VIDEO]

Liver cancer is a growing problem worldwide but new treatments show promise.

March 13, 2018 By Liz Highleyman

Cancer Health editor-in-chief Liz Highleyman interviews Massimo Colombo, MD, of Humanitas Hospital and the University of Milan in Italy and the EASL International Liver Foundation about the changing epidemiology of liver cancer and the promise of new targeted therapies and immunotherapies for this difficult-to-treat cancer.
