Websites Worth Watching

Some helpful websites to to look up if you or one of your loved ones is living with cancer.

June 17, 2019 By Bob Barnett

Patient True Talk

(patienttruetalk.com)

Melanoma survivor Dan Engel created this peer-to-peer site to match people with cancer with survivors to help them navigate treatment and beyond. Click here for more.

National Sleep Foundation

(sleepfoundation.org)

While not cancer specific, the NSF offers practical, evidence-based tactics to conquer sleep problems, which are common during and after cancer treatment. Click here for more.

American Institute for Cancer Research

(aicr.org)

Is soy safe if you are being treated for breast cancer? Should you go vegan? Avoid sugar? AICR supports diet research and helps interpret it for the public. Click here for more.

Follow cancerhealth.com on Facebook (facebook.com/cancerhealthmag), Twitter (@cancerhealthmag) and Instagram (cancerhealth).

© 2026 Smart + Strong All Rights Reserved.