Celebrating Life...

This much is certain: I enjoy being busy, I do not get enough sleep and I love my life.

It is not all fear and worry over here for me.

There is also joy and celebrations.

Despite having budget concerns and my whole “what if” issues (like almost every cancer survivor I know — that ish is expensive) there is also some wins.

- My kids are functional, kind of — though definitely still in summer mode but I have an 11-year-old AND an almost-8-year-old :).

- My husband and I have a true partnership and I love him and can admit it despite the years of issues we had …Oh and today is his BIRTHDAY so happy birthday, love.

- My nonprofit has a few partnerships that are kicking into gear.

- My social media business is doing fairly well — I am running social media for 5 different entities and enjoying it immensely — my brain loves to be working all of the time so this is fun for me because 1. I get paid for it and 2. I love looking at how to promote businesses and how to get the word out there to the public in different ways — and hey, I am finally using that Marketing degree I got in um 1998…

- I will be speaking at a few events over the next few weeks.

What else can I add? Just a different perspective from the world of uncertainty — this much is certain, I enjoy being busy, I do not get enough sleep and I love my life.

What are your certainties?

XOXO — Supermom
