No-Shave November is Almost Here: Get Your Facial Hair Ready!

October 26, 2022 By Fans for the Cure

We are excited to share that for 2022, Fans for the Cure has partnered with No-Shave November and the Matthew Hill Foundation to increase awareness about prostate cancer and fundraise in support of our programs.

Part of our role as a participant charity is to enlist our supporters to join our team of fundraisers – men and women willing to mustaches and beards, fake and real, on behalf of Fans for the Cure. With November just around the corner, now is the perfect time to create your own fundraising page, join our team, and ask your friends, family, and work colleagues, to support your new page.

Both Steve Garvey and Ed Randall have already set up their pages, so you are certainly welcome to surf over and donate in support of their efforts.

We are just one week away from November. Time to toss those razors – until (at least) December 1st.
