

PET Imaging Video from Dr. Eugene Kwon

Here's an informative video that gives a good overview of prostate cancer, imaging in general, and PET imaging specifically.

Here's a very informative 23-minute video for both the newly diagnosed and those of us who have been playing with this for a while. It gives a good overview of prostate cancer, imaging in general, and PET imaging specifically.

Dr. Kwon is from the Mayo Clinic and, as I recall, was an early advocate of using PET imaging in identifying and treating oligometastatic prostate cancer.

This video was from the Prostate Cancer Research Institute (PCRI) YouTube channel. I'm not sure when Part 2 will be released.
