Sunshine, Blue Skies and 3 More Months

This time I felt so well I could actually care about my life and think about the progress I've made and how far I've come.

February 16, 2018 By Amanda Hayes

Sunshine and blue skies gets the best of us out of funky moods. I hope you all have a lovely weekend! Roll on the spring and summer!

This post originally appeared on Happy Smiling Cancer Girl on February 16, 2018. It is republished with permission.

© 2026 Smart + Strong All Rights Reserved.